

Western Culture Migration and Education

Prof. Dr. Giuseppe Mari

Migrations currently impacting Europe are a challenge not only to society as a whole but also to education – school in particular – because communication among people from different cultural backgrounds can be difficult. It is essential to recognise the common reference within the idea of human dignity and to be aware that Western culture always grew up by combining otherness and unity at the same time. We must face the same challenge today.

Bildnachweis: George Grosz: Der besessene Forstadjunkt

07.11.17
18-20 UHR , S.13.26

Erziehungswissenschaft
Fakultät für Human- und
Sozialwissenschaft

BERGISCHE
UNIVERSITÄT
WUPPERTAL